BECOME A PARTNER

Share our vision of engaging communities across North Carolina in working together to improve quality of life and support for those living with dementia.

What are the benefits of becoming a partner?

Our partners help us to support an open exchange of information, expertise and ideas to address current trends and issues impacting the quality of life for aging adults, and provide an opportunity for us to reach out and speak with a unified voice about the impact of caregiving and dementia in North Carolina.

What does it mean to be a partner?

It means your organization's mission supports our shared vision and that you support our efforts to empower caregivers with the tools and resources they need to make informed decisions for themselves and those living with dementia.

Our partners aid us in educating the public by working with us to provide expertise, knowledge and information about dementia, or helping to advance research on the prevention, cause and hope for a cure.

If you share our vision, we are eager to talk about events, grants, awards and training programs we offer throughout the year and other opportunities that are available to partner with us.

By working together, there are many ways we can inspire others and share success stories with our communities of donors, partners, and the media here in North Carolina.
